Hey Paul, I apologize if I was too tightly strung in my initial comments to you; I was really just closing the files on the Westchester MDP & ER revisions after a whole lot of time with my head stuck in the computer. My son will testify that I've been struggling with civil human relations skills over the last week. I'm almost better. A jog or some exercise might help.

On a better note, just look at the pretty map we made for you (attached).

Thanks for all of your help on this birth. Actually, I guess it's a re-birth, eh?
